

The Royal Medical Society (RMS) is run by medical students for medical students studying at Edinburgh.

The Society was established in 1737 and is the only student society in Britain to hold a Royal Charter, which was awarded in 1778.

The RMS hosts a variety of events throughout the year. These include talks, seminars, tutorials, the National Conference as well as socials such as the Burns' Supper and RMS Ball – which this year is to be held at the Royal College of Surgeons!

The RMS owns and operates out of premises located above the Potterow Dome at Bristo Square. Members have 24 hour access to these premises, which can be used as a social or study space. The premises include:

- Large lounge/social area with pool table and dart board
- Extensive medical library with most of the course textbooks
- Computing facilities with free printing
- Clinical skills room
- Kitchen with fridge, kettle, toaster, microwave and tea and coffee.
- Plenty of study areas

Members are also able to attend a range of exclusive events, such as exam revision tutorials, and venepuncture and plastering tutorials. Members are also eligible to apply for Travel and Study funding, receiving up to £1000. Members are also able to run for council positions, and participate in the historical exchange program we have with Leiden medical school in the Netherlands.
